

U. S. Accord With Russia Is Jarred

Statement Made By White House

President Roosevelt Replies To Soviet Premier's Denunciation

LETTER OF APRIL IS MADE PUBLIC

By ERIC FRIEDHEIM International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—Diplomatic accord between the United States and the Soviet government today was further jarred by a White House statement that inferentially branded Russia as an aggressor nation.

Already aroused over Russia's action in releasing the German captured American freighter City of Flint to the Germans, the American government lost little time in striking back at Soviet Premier Molotov's denunciation of American foreign policy, and particularly his criticism of the administration's proposed neutrality legislation.

Without comment, the White House late yesterday made public a message sent last April by Soviet President M. I. Kalinin to President Roosevelt expressing Russia's "profound sympathy" with American efforts to forestall attack or invasion of 31 independent nations. It was sent in response to President Roosevelt's personal appeal to Chancellor Hitler of Germany, and Premier Mussolini of Italy, to refrain from any act of aggression.

Finland On List

First on the list of 31 countries specified by Mr. Roosevelt was Finland, against which Russia currently is making demands. Also on the list were Poland, Estonia, Latvia and Lithuania.

The Soviet now occupies part of Poland and has won concessions from the other three nations.

Since Molotov chose to criticize American foreign policy during the course of a public address this week, the White House countered with indirect rebuttal. Officials felt, nevertheless, that this method of calling attention to Kalinin's peace assurances of last April, left little doubt as to how the United States views Russian occupation of Polish territory and Baltic area.

Diplomatic authorities also interpreted the White House action as a further expression of displeasure over Soviet-German collaboration.

Last week, the State department implied that Russia ignored international law in turning the City of Flint over to German authorities.

Despite the strained feeling prevailing between the United States and Russia, no complete rupture in diplomatic relations appears likely in the immediate future, officials said.

While demands for the recall of American ambassador to Moscow Laurence Steinhardt were voiced in the House yesterday by Rep. McCormack (D) Massachusetts, the State department would be reluctant to take such drastic action at this moment, it was stated.

Soviet Envoys Constantine Oumansky now in en route to Washington from Moscow.

land's willingness to aid in safeguarding the security of Leningrad, which is reached through the Gulf of Finland.

Molotov's revelation of the Soviet demands "created an exceptional atmosphere," the foreign minister said.

"Finland cannot see any danger to Russia's security from the Finnish state. Should a third power attempt to use Finland as the base for an attack against the Soviet Union, we would resist to the fullest extent."

but excluding non-military airplanes—offered by Rep. Vorys (R) Ohio.

3. A proposal by Rep. Wolcott (R) Michigan prohibiting use of federal agencies such as the export-import bank and R.F.C. for financing war exports.

May Merge Two

There was a possibility that the Shanley and Vorys moves might be merged, providing a chance under the rules for submission of additional proposals. However, it appeared that the leaders had agreed to scrap a proposal by Rep. Corbett (R) Pennsylvania for deleting from the senate bill provisions empowering President Roosevelt to designate "combat zones" through which American vessels might not move.

Administration forces claimed a majority of "at least 25 votes" for repeal as the house fight neared its close and with voting scheduled to begin shortly after 2 p. m. Opponents insisted the votes would be "very close," and some of their leaders maintained the house would vote to retain the embargo. Vorys expressed confidence in his modified embargo proposal.

"Judging from talks I've had with a number of Democrats," said Vorys, "I believe my motion will carry by a narrow margin."

"Will Vote Repeal"

Countering this, Democratic leader Rayburn told his colleagues: "We have the votes. The house will vote for repeal."

Congressional machinery was set for fast action on the neutrality bill once the arms embargo issue is settled in the house. A rule sending the legislation to conference with the senate for settlement of differences between the senate and house measures has already been adopted. House conferees will be named and the senate will stay in session to go through the formality of agreeing to the conference and naming its conferees after the house action. The house bill passed at the last regular session, retained the arms embargo.

Leaders on both sides hoped to have the senate agree to the conference report late tomorrow, so that it may go to both houses for final ratification on Saturday and the neutrality legislation can be sent to the White House. However, if the conference committees of the two houses fail to reach an agreement tomorrow, and a conference report does not come to the floor before Saturday, there was a possibility of delay until Monday.

cluded Regional Library Conference held at Hershey, Pa. Miss Sterling also welcomed the group to the city and to the library, and gave a very enlightening report of the conference.

Speak During Morning

Others who were called upon during the morning session for reports of the regional conference were: Catherine Charles, Ellwood City; Mildred Altman, Westminster college; Elsie Rayle, Beaver Falls; and Rachael Davis, Sharon.

Evelyn L. Matthews, librarian of the Pennsylvania State Library in Harrisburg, was present and made a report of the state library.

At the close of the morning session, Miss Sterling spoke briefly, outlining the afternoon program for the group.

Luncheon Program

Main dining room of The Castle-ton Hotel was the scene of a luncheon for the group at 12:45 o'clock today. At this time, fine talks based on the "Propaganda" theme were given by Marian Grosh and Caroline Lauman.

Miss Grosh, who represents Geneva college library, spoke on "The Problem of Propaganda Material in the college." Miss Lauman of the Sewickley public library spoke on "Pamphlets, Public Opinion and Books in the News."

Following a short discussion of the topics, the delegates' program called for a visit to the Shenango Pottery company at 3 o'clock. This trip was to conclude the sessions of the Four County Library club.

PA NEW OBSERVES

sessors should assess property at a certain percentage less than its actual value. There is no authority in law for this idea. The rule is to assess at whatever the assessor thinks a property would sell for at a bona-fide sale, after full public notice. In the present depressed condition of the realty market, many properties are assessed for more than the owner would be willing to take for them, and this naturally causes kicks. Assessing property is a mighty hard job, and it will never be done equitably until the same board of assessors cover the whole county, and even then there will be howls.

A Hungry Looking Woman

Pa New on Washington street yesterday and asked if he would direct her to a waffle house. Pa New scratched his bald spot, but that was all the good it did. There may be some place in the city where a hungry woman can satisfy her appetite for waffles, but there doesn't seem to be any place where they make a specialty of waffles, like in some cities.

The Other Day Pa New Told

of visiting a west side home where there were some big fat loaves of bread waiting for the oven. We neglected to warn what kind of yeast was used in raising those big loaves, but maybe it was obtained from an east side woman who prides herself on her ability to make yeast with a real kick. She claims that when she puts her bread in the pans she has to use iron clamps to hold down the dough, the yeast is so fast and powerful. Motorists might find a cake of that yeast handy in case it became necessary to jack up the car.

J. L. Morrison, who puts in his spare time running the Greenville Record-Argus, recently visited the world's fair, where he heard Gipsy Smith preach. Morrison learned that when a boy Gipsy was a profane youth living with his father, a real Gipsy, in Epping Forest, England. In 1874 Moody and Sankey, the latter of New Castle, were holding evangelistic services near Epping Forest, and the Gipsy father and son went to hear them. The boy found them in a carriage, and with one foot on the hub, gazed at them with wonder. Moody suddenly noticed him, placed his hand on the boy's head and said, "God make of you a preacher of the gospel." When Moody went back in the late eighties he found the boy a preacher. Gipsy Smith has now been preaching thirty years, and still draws big crowds.

After December 31 the requirements

for old age assistance in Pennsylvania change from a minimum of 70 years to 65 years. The applicant must have been a resident of the commonwealth for five of the nine years immediately preceding application. He or she must have no relatives responsible by law and financially able to contribute to support. They may not, at time of receiving assistance, be inmates of a public institution, and may not have conveyed or transferred real or personal property of the value of five hundred dollars or upwards, without first consideration, within two years preceding the date of making application. Information in specific cases is available from the county board of assistance.

In the Croton district, Tuesday

evening, a real rear end collision occurred. In the 1000 block of Croton avenue there are two alleys on either side of the street, in line with one another. An automobile backed out of each alley and met about the middle of the street with a loud bang! Each driver jumped out of his car with loud protests to the other, "Where do you think you are going?" "What about you?" "Who is going to pay for this damage?" and so on. Quite a crowd gathered around the "arguers," when suddenly some person that was acquainted with the state highway law mentioned that they were both in wrong, because they backed their machines onto the main highway. That seemed to settle the argument, as both drivers got into their damaged cars and drove away.

A private licensed pilot, H. E. Hess

of the New Bedford road, Route 422, was seen doing some "ground work" Wednesday afternoon when endeavoring to get a neighbor's cow off the highway, which nearly got hit by an automobile. Mr. Hess succeeded in getting "bossey" into his neighbor's yard from which he supposedly thought the animal had escaped, but soon discovered by the unfriendly reception given the stray by those in the field, that it didn't belong there. However, within a few moments, contentment reigned when the animal was, from all appearances, accepted by the barnyard herd.

Vets Resolve To Defend Democracy Against Threats

Harry L. McBride Post Takes Action Against Communism And Fascism

Vigorously condemning the current European religious persecutions and a pledge to defend the principles of America's democracy against all external and internal threats, was the subject of a resolution unanimously adopted last night by the Corp. Harry L. McBride Post No. 322, Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States, at its regular semi-monthly meeting at the Legion Home.

The resolution, submitted by Commander Concella, was discussed briefly. Intolerance and persecution were deplored in a resolution which dedicated the united efforts of the entire membership of the Veterans of Foreign Wars to the preservation of "the basic principles of America's democracy—freedom of speech, freedom of the press, freedom of religion and the rights of petition and assembly."

"We conceive it," the resolution read in part, "to be our patriotic duty to defend such principles from all dangers whatsoever, even as we deem it our duty, in time of war, to defend America's principles on foreign shores and in hostile waters."

"One of the major objectives of the 1938-1939 eight-point program of the V. F. W. is 'unalterable opposition to Communism, Fascism and Nazism in the United States. We also as an organization, are devoted to the maintenance of our constitutional rights of free speech, a free press, religious freedom and rights of petition and assembly,' Commander Concella said.

Company Plans New Underground Conduit

Will Eliminate Most Overhead Wires On Shenango River Bridge

When council met in city hall today councilmen granted permission to the Pennsylvania Power company to construct an underground conduit in West Washington street between the company's substation and Beaver street. The state water power and resources board gave the company permission to lay cables across the Shenango river.

The conduit will carry all the distribution lines for the city and also all the street lighting circuits that emanate from the sub-station and serve the city east of the Shenango river.

This will eliminate most of the overhead wires now crossing the bridge and extending to Beaver street.

By placing them underground there will be less danger of interruption to the circuits serving the city officials reported.

The conduit will be built by contract.

Safety Meetings Being Conducted

Safety in operation of mines and quarries is being stressed just now by the Department of Labor and Industry and in pursuance of the policy of greater safety, Thomas Quigley, chief of the Bureau of Mines and Quarries of the Department of Labor and Industry, and his deputy, James Deiner, are in New Castle today.

They conducted a safety meeting at the Lehigh Portland Cement plant this morning and this afternoon conducted a similar meeting at the Carbon Limestone Company.

Both men were pleased at the manner in which mines and quarries and cement plants are operated in Lawrence county and came here today to further develop the unusual safety record of the local plants.

Testimony Taken On Zone Appeal

Council today took testimony regarding a petition asked that a section in the fourth and fifth wards be changed from a residential to a local business zone. There has been presented petitions for and against the change. The section is bounded by Taylor, Mable, Division streets and Fairview avenue. Attorney S. L. Clark represented the petitioners and Attorney Joseph Letta the opposers. The hearing was conducted in city hall.

mayor for New Castle, two city councilmen, a city treasurer and three school directors. In addition a flock of aldermen and ward and township officers will be elected. Of the 42,000 and some odd votes registered the Republicans polled but 63 per cent of theirs at the primary and the Democrats 47 per cent of theirs. It is expected that this showing will be greatly increased Tuesday.

It is an important election, one that concerns the levying and collection of taxes, the administration of city and county affairs. Only the votes will decide who wins and to get good government there should be a representative vote.

Deaths of the Day

Thomas Joseph Varley, aged 64, died at 11:40 o'clock Wednesday evening, at the home of his sister, Mrs. Leroy W. Chapman, 21½ North Mill street, following a week's illness of pneumonia.

Mr. Varley was born in St. Louis, Mo., on January 22, 1875, the son of Owen and Bridget Glenn Varley. He was single, and had resided in New Castle since he was two years of age.

He was a Spanish-American War veteran, having served in Company G, 20th Infantry. Mr. Varley was a retired steel worker.

Surviving are five sisters, Mrs. Thomas Hickey, of Canton, O., Mrs. Harry McClure, of Canton, O., Mrs. Catherine Sprott, of New York City, Mrs. Mary McNichol, of Lynn, Mass., and Mrs. Leroy W. Chapman, of New Castle, Pa.

The body is at the Campbell funeral home, where it will remain until time for the funeral services to be held on Saturday morning at 10 o'clock, in St. Mary's church. Interment will be in St. Mary's cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home, at any time, and the family will receive friends on Friday evening from 7 o'clock to 9 o'clock.

in the garments they have either purchased or collected. For a day they are on display and then are bundled up to be sent to hospitals, orphanages and other such institutions.

What the total will be today is a guess, but it will probably run over 3500 pieces, a splendid response. In addition some money is contributed which in turn is used to provide clothing for needy people.

The display is one that should be seen by every citizen of the city and county. It represents a lot of work and a lot of planning upon the part of women who do a genuine charitable work. Their work is accompanied by little fanfare but it is a worthy work well done.

Late today the garments will be allocated to the various organizations on the list of the Needlework Guild and in the long winter days and nights to come many boys and girls will be protected from the blasts of the elements because a group of New Castle women gave a little thought to their need.

cause of the serious illness of a seaman aboard. The coast guard cutter Duane then took over direction of the search.

Began Search Wednesday

The coast guard and navy search for the Coulmore began early yesterday when a radio message, purportedly from the British freighter, indicated that it had been attacked either by a submarine or a sea raiding surface vessel about 600 miles due east of New York.

A half dozen coast guard cutters and two seaplanes, in addition to an undisclosed number of navy seaplanes and destroyers, rushed to the scene of the reported attack as given in the distress signal.

The Bibbe, the first vessel to reach the spot, radioed headquarters that it found no trace of the ship or crew.

Coast guard headquarters did not say immediately whether the search would be terminated.

News Briefs From City Hall

Gas thieves were discovered and fled from the 1700 block of Jackson avenue last night. They were attempting to steal gasoline from a car. They abandoned their hose and can, police were informed.

Approximately 30 men were placed to work by the sewer department of the city of New Castle at the southwest corner of the Shenango river bridge in Grant street. They are diverting the course of the "run" from the storm sewer so it

Miss Evelyn McGrath has started her duties as secretary to her father, Mayor Charles E. McGrath. Miss Maxine Gillespie, former secretary, also started her clerkship duties in the legal bureau.

Celebrating Golden Wedding Date Today

MR. AND MRS. PERRY D. SNYDER

After 50 years of married life, Mr. and Mrs. Perry D. Snyder, matron and matroness of the county home, believe the fact that they have weathered that many years as man and wife. Today they are celebrating their golden jubilee and this afternoon and evening will hold an "Open House" at the county home.

At noon today a family dinner was held in The Castleton Hotel and a merry party it was. Both of them seem to have the happy faculty of laughing at Father Time and no one was younger than Mr. and Mrs. Snyder at the dinner.

In 1913 the city asked them to take over the custody of the city home. In 1926 this was joined with the county and they have handled the big plant on the Ellwood road ever since.

It's an auspicious day for the Snyders and their host of friends in Lawrence county wish them another half century of the same happiness they have enjoyed since November 2, 1889, when they were married in Akron, O.

NATION FACING BICYCLE PROBLEM

LAST week at Atlantic City the National Safety Congress made a start in meeting the terrible increase in bicycle traffic casualties. Its suggestions were few but seem sensible.

There are now 8,000,000 bicycles in America. This is double the number in operation in 1932. The death rate from bicycle accidents has doubled since 1932. This was 350 in 1932. In 1938 it was 700. In 1938 the automobile accidents dropped 18 per cent from the number in 1937. In 1938 the bicycle accidents did not drop at all.

The output of bicycles has again reached 1,000,000 a year. The growing proportions of riders are adults, not youngsters.

The Safety Congress advises (1) licensing of cyclists with police power of impounding cycles (2) keeping cycles in business districts to streets with thick and slowly moving traffic and (3) keeping cycles to sidewalks in residential districts where pedestrians are relatively few and motor-car traffic is swift.

COUNTY MERGER PLAN CONSIDERED

Consolidation of counties to reduce the administrative expense of local government has long been debated in America without any particular progress being made. Governor Phillips of Oklahoma is trying to hurry the program along in his state by calling upon the public to take the lead in movements seeking to tie weak counties into stronger ones.

Governor Phillips points out that no county can operate successfully on a valuation of less than five million dollars and that really successful operation should be on a minimum of fifteen millions. He thinks Oklahoma has an excellent opportunity to start the ball rolling, now that the Grand River dam will reduce property valuations in some northeastern Oklahoma counties far below the safety level.

The governor recognizes that he is up against some ancient prejudices in seeking to eliminate hard-won courthouses from some county seat towns. But he points out that a courthouse is no longer the asset to a town that it once was and that the lessened burden resulting from consolidation would more than make up to a town what loss resulted from cancelling out its courthouse.

TUMULT OF ANNOUNCEMENTS

A newspaper columnist, William F. McDermott, discussing a certain type of radio excitement or disease, observes:

"I have nothing but admiration for the mental nimbleness of the radio broadcasters who report the football games, and I understand the strain involved in the conditions under which they work. Still, some of them make me uneasy."

"I wish they would not report the passage of an inflated ball over a field in a tone and manner which suggest that they are witnessing the destruction of the world by fire, or the emergence of the sheeted dead from their graves in preparation for the last judgment. There is a doomsday note in their voices which I doubt that the occasion warrants."

"Manner gets in the way of matter. What the reader wishes to know is that is happening on the football field. What he often gets is an incoherent expression of the announcer's excitement."

The American public, used to noise, seems to tolerate this sort of thing, and perhaps many listeners really like the excitement. It would be regarded as a strange procedure, though, in almost any foreign country. An American who listens to sport broadcasts in England, for example, is always impressed by their composure. The tone of many of our broadcasts must astonish millions of Europeans and Latin-Americans.

Still more, perhaps, are they astonished by the excitement, stress and strain that our broadcasters usually put into their reading of the advertisements sandwiched in between the news and entertainment programs. This is a form of bad manners which Americans themselves often resent.

WHAT EXPERIENCE TEACHES US

Herbert Hoover in the current issue of The Saturday Evening Post on the subject, "Keeping Out of War," cites the experiences of the past as lessons pointing to our future course of action.

Experience should be the lamp which guides our feet along the path of safety in international affairs.

For 150 years, or up until 1917, this nation kept out of all the wars of Europe.

We have undoubtedly become less separated from Europe than we were 100 or 50 years ago. We are today only 24 hours away by means of transportation. Fifty years ago we were three months distant. Even 20 years ago we were a week away from the shores of Europe.

But is that any reason why we should participate in Europe's affairs—why we should send our boys to fight an enemy three thousand miles from home?

The quarrels and hates of Europe, as Mr. Hoover points out, have always prevailed.

It has been impossible for 26 different nations and of almost as many different races to live in peace in an area no larger than that of the United States.

They will always have their differences. But we cannot be expected to join with one or with any group against another.

We have a democracy here and we want to preserve it. In Europe there are all kinds of governments and all kinds of ideologies and political philosophies.

These people have fought for their liberties many times in their long history and have time and again lost it.

But America cannot go to the rescue of every nation which has lost. It can encourage it, aid it in many ways short of going to war.

Once this country makes a habit of going to Europe to help some nation out of its difficulties, it will always be at war—and it will, of course, lose its freedom.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

HELP FOR BOY WHO IS NOT LIKED

As I read the following letter I was depressed, and felt sorry for the child and for his mother. There are so many little sufferers like this child. Their suffering could have been prevented, even now can be reduced. The longer the problem grows, of course, the harder its solution. But it is never too late.

"Dear Dr. Myers—I just feel I have to write and ask your advice. I have a little boy, eight years old. He just came home and said, 'Mother, I could just die. I asked him why. 'Well, no one likes me. Everywhere I go the boys will walk away from me. And it is true. They will come over, get his toys and take them to their house and play with them, but not him. Or if they are playing a game and he goes over, it breaks up immediately.'"

Same At School
"At school it is the same. He is a very bright child, his teachers say. Older people like him but children do not, and this is funny, for before he could walk good the little boys would get him in a corner and pound him."

"Now, of course, that part seems to be over, but I hate for him to grow up with the idea that no one likes him."

"I have five children. The oldest boy was like this until he grew up; then he seemed to have plenty of friends. The other three didn't seem to have this trouble. They are all grown up but this one, and it seems a lonely life for a child. Please advise if something can be done."

It was not easy to advise this mother by mail. I should like to talk to her and ask her what she says when he tells her of his woes; how she acts toward the children who abuse her boy; whether she makes other children welcome in her home.

The chances are that she has over-protected him, commanded him not to play with certain other children of the neighborhood, and tried to change the other children rather than to encourage her boy to get into the rough and tumble and defend himself.

I suggested that she find someone to give this boy boxing lessons so he might feel more secure when at school, and to find an older child to teach him some of the play skills, such as catching and throwing a ball.

Solving Parent Problems
Q. When would you have a child begin to eat with the family?

A. About as soon as he could feed himself. If the rest of the family did not pay too much attention to him.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

A GUARDIAN NEEDED

Besides bringing many strangers to New York and San Francisco, the two Fairies offer unending opportunities for newspaper stories. The last one that has come to my attention is a story concerning the San Francisco Police Department's Inspector team. This team is composed of two men who are having a terrible time with children who lose small sums of money.

One child recently lost $2.18 which his stepmother had given him for school books. He tearfully refused to go home without it, for you know how stepmothers are. A concessionaire found the treasure near his Scooter Rider and mailed it, intact, to the owner.

Another two-dollar-loser was so unhappy, the police force got together and raised a brand new grubstake for him.

It is, however, the lady from Geary Street the inspectors admit most. First, she telephoned from home that she had lost her purse on the grounds—so the boys leaped into action, recovered it and called her to come over and take it home. She did. She had no sooner arrived home when she telephoned to say she had lost her coat while making the trip. The inspectors found THAT and telephoned her:

"And when you come for it, BRING SOMEBODY WITH YOU!"

THE DWARF AND HIS MODEL PLANE

Pension Plan Of Colorado Is Still Issue

Full Monthly Pension Payments Made But Four Times In Two Years

STATE HAS SEVEN REVENUE SOURCES

(International News Service)
DENVER—Success of Colorado's $45 a month constitutional pension plan today remained uncertain and still controversial as the state made the 25th monthly payment to a record number of pensioners.
The full $45 pension has been paid four times since the plan went into effect Sept. 1, 1937 and the average payment this month is $32.33, the highest since July. The full pension was paid the first four months of the plan's operation and then began falling off due to increasing numbers of the state's "senior citizens" qualifying and due to decreased tax collections.

The lowest payment made was in August, 1938 when an average payment of $25.88 was made. More than 10,000 oldsters have been added to the rolls since the constitutional plan was put into operation.

Voters Adopted Plan
The $45 pension plan was adopted at the November election of 1936 by a 100,000-vote majority but a legislative enabling act was necessary before the plan could be started and court litigation subsequently established that the amendment was not operative until Sept. 1, 1937.

Figures released by the state welfare department show that 39,866 persons over 60 years of age will receive pension checks this month averaging $32.33, the highest since July. The maximum check will be $37.

Earl M. Kouns, state welfare director, said the number of pension recipients this month establishes an all time high.

State officials explain that the full $45 pension cannot be paid due to lack of state funds to match federal funds. There are seven sources of revenue for payment of the pension under terms of the amendment.

Percentages Fixed
These are: (1) sales taxes; (2) use taxes; (3) liquor taxes; (4) liquor licenses; (5) inheritance taxes; (6) incorporation fees; (7) federal grants-in-aid. However, only 85 per cent of the sales, use and liquor taxes and liquor license fees go into the pension fund and only 10 per cent of the inheritance taxes and incorporation fees are diverted for pension. The balance of the collections are turned into the state's general fund.

Foes of the constitutional plan contended during the election campaign of 1936, following a year's operation of the scheme, that the plan was bankrupting the state. But the people retained the amendment in 1936 by an even larger majority than in 1936.

State Auditor Homer Bedford recently issued a statement of estimated receipts and expenditures showing that the state will end the biennium with a $46,000 deficit on the basis of present revenue sources.

Governor Ralph L. Carr issued a statement following adjournment of the legislature that the state's books are balanced and the state is "in the black" following two years of deficit operation.

Foes of the $45 amendment point out that before the plan was adopted the revenue from sales, liquor and inheritance and use taxes was available to the general fund of the state for appropriation by the legislature. But the pension amendment "trapped" per cent of all such excises taxes and prohibited enactment of further such excise taxes for general use.

Proponents of the amendment contended that such funds already were being used for relief and pensions and that the amendment merely stabilized those funds from legislative juggling.

Expects Another Fight
Another battle over the plan appears to be in the offing in 1940, led by an organization known as the Federation for Workable Old Age pensions, which will seek repeal of the amendment, and a pension organization known as the National Annuity League, which will resist repeal.

The $45 amendment was drafted by O. Otto Moore, an attorney and vice president of the National Annuity League, leading pension organization in Colorado.

The Annuity League officials have announced plans to place on the 1940 ballot a constitutional amendment levying a five-mill ad valorem tax on all tangible property in Colorado, expected to provide $4,500,000, which will be used to supplement present state funds to pay the full $45 pension.

Statistics released by the welfare department show that pensioners have received more than $10,000,000 in the first nine months of this year and if the full pension had been paid nearly $20,000,000 would have been spent in Federal and state funds.

It is estimated that the full $45 pension will be paid again the first three months of 1940 due to increased sales and liquor tax revenues from heavy Christmas buying and an increase in federal grants-in-aid. At the last session of congress the Social Security Act was amended to provide that the federal government would match state pension funds dollar for dollar up to a maximum pension of $30 a month. This increase will mean an average increase of $4 to the average pension on the basis of present state revenue, Kouns estimated.

Must Be Residents
Colorado's pension amendment calls for minimum $45 pensions for aged citizens over 60 years of age. This means that the state must carry the entire load for approximately 5,000 persons between the ages of 60 and 65 since the federal grants are allowed only for pensioners to that age.

Qualifications for pensions include:

a 35-year residence in Colorado for those between 60 and 65 years of age; proof of citizenship, proof of age.

The enabling act to the amendment provides that a pensioner must not have an income in cash or in kind for over $45 a month; he must have resided in Colorado five years before applying for a pension and if under 65 he must have resided in Colorado 35 years. He must be a citizen and must have voted in the last election. The law also allows pensioners to live in their homes regardless of the value and they can own real estate up to a value of $500 and personal property up to a value of $250.

Molotov's Speech
Sharply Attacked
By Vatican Organ

"Speech Contains Few Truths And Long Series Of Lies" Is Comment

(International News Service)

ROME, Nov. 2.—Osservatore Romano, semi-official Vatican newspaper, today sharply attacked Premier V. M. Molotov's speech before the Supreme Soviet.

"The speech contains few truths and a long series of lies," Osservatore said.

"If any new documentation were needed for Russia's destruction of the values of European life, this sermon to the western powers ought to be enough."

"Moscow gives free lessons against violence to those nations which have been fighting for 20 years to eliminate Soviet infection and banish the terrorism of which the Kremlin is the center of propulsion."

"To judge the sincerity of Russia's conversion to the idea of peace, it is sufficient to consider what methods of intimidation and violence inspire the Soviet policy of servitude within and the menace of oppression against the Baltic states."

It is impossible to distinguish between the comintern and the Soviet state, Osservatore said.

"Both are run by the same men with the same ideals."

Osservatore's attack marked a sharp divergence of attitude between the Vatican and the official Italian press.

United Jewish Appeal Campaign Opens Tonight

New Castle's 1939 campaign in behalf of the United Jewish Appeal for refugees and overseas needs will be launched during an informal meeting in the Leslie hotel, tonight at 8 o'clock.

During the session, plans will be completed for a rally on Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock in The Castleton.

The principal speaker at the rally will be Eleazer Lipsky, Mr. Lipsky, a New York attorney, has achieved prominence in the past few years by a series of brilliant articles on various Jewish problems, particularly relating to the position of the Jews in Europe and the up-building of the Jewish homeland in Palestine.

Louis J. Sandler will preside at the rally, which is expected to attract a large audience.

The remarkable public response already noted by the leaders of our campaign, said Mr. Sandler, "is an encouraging portent of the success we shall and must achieve in reaching our local goal. We expect a capacity audience when the New Castle appeal begins."

Emphasizes Needs

Mr. Sandler emphasized that the needs of the stricken thousands and literally hundreds of thousands of refugees scattered throughout Europe demand an unprecedentedly intense effort among the entire New Castle community.

"Today, the plight of the refugees from Germany, and the distress of millions in Poland, Rumania, and other countries of eastern Europe, represent the most significant and vital reason for our fulfilling our local quota," Mr. Sandler emphasized. "Those who are living in Germany can foresee no future except through emigration. Those in Poland must be permitted to maintain their existence. Palestine, which will eventually absorb many of these wanderers into a new life and a permanent home, must be supported in the work of upbuilding and settlement.

"The Joint Distribution committee, the United Palestine Appeal, and the National Coordinating Committee Fund, Inc., knowing the situation as they do, have frankly admitted that they will not be able to cope with the situation this year unless their resources are greatly increased. They estimate that the minimum they will require to carry on their work of relief, retraining and emigration of German and Austrian Jews, of aid in other lands of distress and of furthering the up-building of Palestine will be at least three to four times the sums made available to them during 1938.

"The daily news dispatches give forceful proof to their claims and daily substantiate the fact that the estimates of these agencies have been arrived at on the basis of the immediate needs of unfortunate and oppressed people."

W. U. Employees To Appeal Decision

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Nov. 2.—The association of Western Union employees will appeal a decision of the National Labor Relations board, which holds that it must be disestablished and its members reimbursed for their dues as far back as June 1935, because it is "company dominated."

The dues will amount to approximately $25 per person for the 22,000 Western Union employees throughout the country—a total of $550,000. Said J. Allen Stockwell, Pittsburgh president of the AWUE:

"The board has no business disestablishing a 20 year old union. I don't know how the board can make the company pay back the union dues." The company never collected the dues.

Zella Furman, Pittsburgh chairman of the CIO American Communications Association, declared:

"This decision is a green light on the road to bona fide union organization for the 400 western Union employees in Pittsburgh."

—BUY IN NEW CASTLE—

The board's decision was the result of an investigation and hearings covering more than two years, and was hailed by both the American Federation of Labor and the congress of industrial organization as paving the way for "union" organization of employees.

The board charged the association, founded in 1918, was "company supported and company-dominated."

Former Resident
Breaks Her Wrist

New Castle friends learn that Mrs. Jennie Addis Jones, of 5029 Cabanne avenue, St. Louis, Mo., at one time of this city, is slowly recovering from injuries received in a fall on September 5, four days after the death of her son Norman A. Jones, Mrs. Jones, in the fall, received a badly sprained ankle and a fracture of the left wrist. She is alone now, having been preceded in death years ago by her husband, Edward Jones and a son Reseau and would no doubt appreciate hearing from old New Castle friends. Mrs. Jones is an aunt of Mrs. John McMarlin of Butler who is quite well known here.

Nearly Hundred Streets In Paving Program Of Past Few Years

Ninety-two petitions for city-WPA paving projects have been presented to city council since the work was started several years ago, according to City Engineer Glenn R. Throop. More than half of the thoroughfares have been improved, he stated. As soon as weather conditions prevent paving, storm sewer work will start and continue throughout winter.

Work now under way calls for paving in Etna street between Atlantic and Smithfield streets; Bluff street between Etna street and the city line, and Wald street between Grimes street and Belmont avenue. Petitions presented as of October, and announced today by Throop call for paving as follows:

North Jefferson street between Wilmington avenue and city line. A storm sewer first must be constructed.

Reynolds street between Williams street and Cunningham avenue. A storm sewer in this thoroughfare also must be first built. The section between Pollock and Cunningham avenue, which also calls for a sewer, also requires a storm sewer. Temple, Washington to Stanton, Electric, Grimes to Belmont, Meyer, Delaware to Audley.

Armistice Dinner Plans Under Way

Ex-Service Men To Gather In Casleton On November
11 For Reunion Dinner

It wouldn't be Armistice Day in New Castle without an Armistice Day dinner and this year is no exception. Saturday, November 11, is Armistice Day and arrangements for the annual dinner are under way. Attorney William J. Caldwell is the chairman and today announced that his committee have already started preparations. The dinner will be held in The Casleton Hotel at six-thirty o'clock, in the main dining room which has been reserved for the occasion. Tickets are being placed on sale and any ex-service man interested can make a reservation with Harry Lach, custodian of the Legion Home.

The annual Armistice dinner is peculiar in that it has been a regular custom for many years. There are no officers save for the fact that each year's chairman is elected a year ahead. There are no set speakers, nobody has time to get set with that crowd, but there is always a barrel of fun. Any man who served in the World War is eligible to attend. It is the one time in the year when definite information can be had upon who won the war. This year's program will follow much of the same pattern of other years except that Chairman Caldwell has a piece of surprise entertainment planned. Don't look now but its probably going to be good.

Fine Girl Scout Exhibit Held Over At Library Rooms Through Saturday

Work done in Girl Scout troop meetings and also at the Girl Scout day and permanent camps this past year, is arranged in an attractive exhibit, open to the public, in the assembly room on the ground floor of the public library building.

This exhibit will be open tonight after 5 o'clock for the general public, friends and parents of the Girl Scouts to view the work done by the girls. It was through the efforts of Mrs. Ralph A. Cooper that the exhibit was held over from the originally scheduled closing time of Wednesday evening, until Saturday evening.

As one enters the exhibit room, displays greet the eye on every hand. One of the largest exhibits is arranged on the stage in the assembly room. Here is found a typical camp set-up, with a cleverly pitched tent, camp equipment, and a completely uniformed Girl Scout figure standing guard.

One attractive handicraft table display shows some fine examples of leather work, hammered metal articles, samples of clothing items made by the girls and many other attractive things. One local troop of girls made all of the uniforms for the entire troop.

At the various other displays, arranged systematically around the room, are samples of leaf printing, notebook work, cook books, dolls of various types and novel cork products.

All of the display material was made and supplied for exhibition by the girls in the various New Castle troops, and shows what interesting diversions are supplied those who are members of the local Girl Scout organization.

A visit to the exhibition in the library either tonight, Friday or Saturday, will be well worth anyone's time and trouble. The exhibit was arranged as part of the local observance of National Girl Scout Week.

Says Germany Disappointed

Chamberlain Says Nazis Expected Russia To Promise Armed Aid

SPEECH IS TERMED FLIGHT OF FANCY

By CHARLES A. SMITH
International News Service Staff Correspondent
LONDON, Nov. 2.—Nazi Germany's "disappointment" over failure of Premier and Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov to promise outright Soviet armed aid to the Reich was stressed by Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain in his weekly report to the House of Commons today.
"The speech had been eagerly awaited in Berlin," Chamberlain said, "but I imagine it was occasioned some disappointment in that quarter."
"The speech is being carefully studied by his majesty's government, which noted with interest its definition of the Soviet government's future aims."
"I remember that in an earlier speech on May 31, Molotov issued a warning that his government would not be drawn into international conflicts.

"Molotov said also on that occasion: 'We stand for the cause of peace and prevention of any sort of development of aggression.'"
"That is also the position of his majesty's government."
Flights Of Fancy
"I am not disposed to disturb myself over the flights of fancy in which Molotov indulged when describing the aims of the allies."
(Editor's Note: In his speech to the supreme Soviet on Tuesday Molotov accused Britain and France as waging war against Germany for imperialism disguised as democracy.)
"We have stated those aims ourselves in plain terms. I am confident they are fully appreciated by the great majority of the nations of the world."
Discussing the military situation, Chamberlain said that stormy weather and low visibility had slowed down operations on land and sea and in the air.
"We have continued to take toll of the enemy's submarines," he said, "and on the other hand have lost a certain number of ships."
"But nothing has happened to shake confidence in our ability to overcome the submarine menace."
The prime minister paid tribute to the superiority of British fighting aircraft and pilots, and spoke at some length of the support being received from the empire.

For the Superior Court

HON. WILLIAM H. KELLER—Republican incumbent, endorsed by the Democratic State Committee for re-election in recognition of the able and Non-Partisan manner in which he has occupied the office. Only Efficiency--Nothing Else

What else is important in the requirements for your County Treasurer? Is it important how he spells his name, what part of the County he resides in, or what his politics are?
One thing only is important and that is his ability to do the job honestly.
V. I. Mandich has been your County Treasurer since May 1938. At that time public confidence in that office was badly shaken, accounts were not in order, the office needed re-organizing.
Mandich took the job at a critical time but his record in the office has been one of absolute competency.
A new system has been installed; books are up to date, and every dollar received has been accounted for without any slowing-up of the regular routine work of the office.
This is no time to use the yardstick of politics to measure the man who will be your County Treasurer. He can make no policy, decide no legal questions, he only receives and disburses your money.
Isn't it more important that you be sure of his ability and honesty than that a political party be rewarded?
Mandich has done the job, has done it well, has done it to the entire satisfaction of the citizens. Let's be Americans and forget party lines for the good of the people. Let's reward efficiency, let's take no more chances on the man, who is handling the taxpayers money.
Let's elect Mandich.

Three Die On First Day Of Hunting Season

Only One Of Three Victims Die From Gun Wounds; Locomotive And Heart Attacks Causes

NUMEROUS PERSONS REPORTED WOUNDED

(International News Service) At least three persons were killed in the first day of Pennsylvania's 1939 small game hunting season, but only one of the deaths was directly attributable to gunshot wounds, a survey disclosed today.

The lone victim of gunshot wounds was John Mong, 33, of Dormont, who was killed while hunting on a farm three miles from Sheakleville in Mercer county.

Killed By Train Mong, according to County Coroner William Applegate, was struck by a blast from a shotgun as he crouched in a clump of bushes.

Philip Floyd, 56, of Lancaster county, met death when he was run down by a Pennsylvania railroad train just outside Lancaster. Four cars passed over his body.

Floyd apparently heard the train approaching, but believed it to be on another track. He was watching his dog stalk their prey when he was crushed beneath the wheels of the locomotive.

Victim No. 3 was 34-year-old John Marenschaw, of Pottsville, who died of a heart attack while hunting near the Atlas Cement quarries along the Northampton-Bath highway in Northampton county.

Many Are Wounded Numerous persons were wounded as an estimated army of 650,000 flocked into the woods in search of small game. Considering the vast army of hunters in the woods, state game commission officials were pleased at the low death toll. They reiterated a "safety first" warning, however.

In addition, the commission reported "large kills" throughout the state. From today on and during the rest of the small game season, firing can start at 7 a. m. Yesterday's firing did not start until 9 a. m.

Dies On Scene Mong was reported as the first gunshot victim of the small game hunting season. He was downed by a shotgun blast while hunting with two companions.

With him were Thomas Evans of Carick and W. E. Beck of Corlies Station. Mong was crouching in the brush and apparently stood up or moved when the shotgun blast struck him. He died on the scene.

Missouri City Marshal Suffers Wound In Battle

(International News Service) STE. GENEVIEVE, Mo., Nov. 2.—City Marshal Henry J. Drury of Ste. Genevieve was shot and wounded Wednesday and Sheriff Louis Ziegler was overpowered by three armed bank robbers whom they were pursuing.

The bandits, who a few minutes before had robbed the Roder bank of Ste. Genevieve of approximately $12,000 in cash, escaped in the sheriff's automobile.

Drury was wounded in the head as he exchanged shots with the bandits whose flight was temporarily halted when their car ran out of gasoline about five miles southwest of Ste. Genevieve. Drury was rushed by automobile to a St. Louis hospital. His condition was not believed to be serious, however.

Ziegler's gun jammed and he was unable to fire. The three men then entered the sheriff's car and fled. Ziegler was uninjured.

Detroit Man Ends Life In Basement Of Rural Church

(International News Service) BEL AIR, Md., Nov. 2.—Returning to the rural scenes of his boyhood, William C. Hanway, 60, a Detroit business executive, ended his life in the basement of the rustic Episcopal church he attended as an obscure farm lad before achieving success in the business world.

Beside the body was a shotgun. The charge had entered the chest. No notes were found but the authorities learned from relatives that Hanway had resigned as treasurer of a trailer company in Detroit Monday, and that a widow and two children survive him there.

A notebook, found in his pocket, indicated that Hanway carried $60,000 worth of life insurance, earned $15,000 as treasurer of the trailer company; owned 1,046 shares of the trailer company stock and other holdings.

ROUND WORM MORE COMMON THAN TAPEWORM

Tapeworms are the most spectacular of the parasites that afflict children's intestinal tracts, but they aren't the most common. There is another parasite which is much more common among children; the round worm—Ascaris Lumbricoides, to give it its scientific name. This pest occurs in all parts of the world but it is less likely to appear where cleanliness has attained its proper place among the virtues.

The round worm resembles nothing so much as the ordinary dew worm you catch to go fishing. One of them measures four to eight inches in length and is about a quarter of an inch in diameter. In color, it ranges from a dirty grey to a yellowish red.

The eggs of this worm are laid in moist earth or in water and often enter the intestinal tract through fruits or vegetables. When the eggs are safely within the human intestinal tract, the thick outer coating breaks off and frees the parasite in the intestine. At this stage it may pass through the intestinal wall, enter the liver and then pass into the lungs, where it is coughed up and swallowed into the intestines again. By that time it reaches the adult stage and, as I said, resembles a dew worm.

Frequently children are afflicted with round worms for long periods and never show any symptoms of their whatever. Some children react quite definitely to them, however, showing extreme pallor, lassitude, vomiting and, in severe cases, convulsions. I have seen attacks which showed all the symptoms of a case of meningitis. When the worm is in the cycle of passing through the lungs, asthmatic attacks and severe coughing often result. Sometimes worms are vomited up.

One Japanese physician was curious to know definitely whether these asthmatic attacks corresponded to the stage when the worms passed through the lungs. So he swallowed 2,000 of these eggs. On the fourth day he suffered from chest pains; he coughed a great deal, sometimes bringing up blood as he coughed. On the same day the parasites were present in his sputum. Of course his symptoms were severe because he took so many of the eggs. Anyone who is infected accidentally would probably swallow only a small proportion of this number of eggs.

The worms sometimes appear in great numbers in the bowel. In fact, I recall once, at a hospital, seeing an operation being performed on a child whose bowels had been completely stopped by a mass of worms. Occasionally, too, the worms may cause abscesses in the liver or they may obstruct the larynx and cause choking. Fortunately, such extreme cases are not common.

I don't think worms are as common among children as they used to be. Certainly, I am sure I don't see so many cases here. It seems to me that a few years ago all children had them at one time or another. I imagine this change is due to the greater regard we have today for cleanliness. And certainly, so far at least, none of the quintuplets has had them.

DAILY DOZEN

(From the Medical Society of the State of Pennsylvania)

America's greatest asset, its population, is dwindling. The national birth rate is moving downward too swiftly.

Pennsylvania's population in 1927 was 5,396,845. That year, its birth rate was 22.4 per 1000 population.

There were 189 births for every 100 deaths.

In 1937, the State's population was 10,176,000.

And its birth rate had fallen to 15.8.

Then there were only 140 births for every 100 deaths.

Pennsylvania's record reflects the entire country.

Fewer children enter the primary grades every year.

It cannot be said that America is not prosperous.

But it can be said that Americans are less propagative.

County commissioners have refused all bids presented for furnishings to be used in the prothonotary's office when it is enlarged. Some of the bids did not conform to the requirements, and as the prices were considered rather high, it was thought best to readvertise for bids.

The John Manville Corporation has filed a suit at the prothonotary's office against John and Mary Slick to collect an account amounting to $655.39. A summons in assumpsit, returnable on the first Monday of December, was issued.

Arthur Farrell and James M. Rea, trading as Farrell & Rea, have filed a suit at the prothonotary's office against Lillian Hannon, trading as Hannon's Fish Market, for $1,240.43.

Russell Doyle, by James Doyle, his father and guardian, has filed an application for divorce at the prothonotary's office against Clara May Doyle of New Bedford.

The couple were married in Cumberland, Md., in August, 1938. The divorce is asked on the grounds of indignities.

Letters of administration in the estate of the late Henry A. Wetzel of Pulaski township have been issued by Register and Recorder Orville Potter to Bertha R. Wetzel. In the estate of the late James Lester Shimp of Shenango township, letters of administration have been issued to Margaret R. Shimp.

Summons in an action of trespass has been filed at the prothonotary's office by Henry James against John Katila. The statement of claim on which the summons is to be based will be filed later.

Subpoena in divorce has been granted in the case of Margaret Davies Hughes by her father and guardian, Harry H. Davies, against William Daniel Hughes. The couple were married at Chester, W. Va., in May, 1939. The application for divorce is made on the grounds of cruel and barbarous treatment.

Earl L. Pritchell has filed a suit at the prothonotary's office against The Universal Sanitary and Manufacturing company in which damages are claimed. Pritchell alleges in his statement of claim that he was employed by the sanitary company, and while working breathed in so much dust that he contracted silicosis.

Prothonotary John A. Edgar and his assistants are having trouble these days trying to furnish information to persons engaged in looking up their family trees. There seems to be an epidemic of tree hunting and calls are frequent. The job of furnishing the desired information is made rather difficult because of the meager birth records kept in the courthouse. Prior to 1893 no records of births were kept in the clerk's office, but from 1893 to 1906, inclusive, such records were kept whenever births were reported. But many were not reported and the records are, therefore, far from complete. Since 1906 such records have been kept in Harrisburg. Consequently, anyone who has forgotten his or her birthday must communicate with the Bureau of Vital Statistics for the desired information.

PRISON TERM GIVEN WOMAN FOR SPY ACTIVITY

Sentence Given In Geneva Court

Brunette Dancer Must Spend Five Dreary Years
In Prison

ESSAYED ROLE OF WAR'S "MATA HARI"

(International News Service)
GENEVA, Nov. 2—Five dreary years in prison was the punishment imposed today on "Nina," the brunette dancer, who essayed the role of the new war's Mata Hari.

Five federal judges found the 35-year-old international night club performer guilty of treason and espionage and gave her the full sentence demanded by the Swiss government prosecutor.

Paul Rohat, a former Geneva detective who allegedly informed Italian authorities of Swiss defense preparations, received a sentence of 15 months.

Trapped In Switzerland

"Nina," whose real name is Virginia Capa Rota, was trapped in a Swiss anti-espionage drive which netted more than 300 persons. Her trial was the first major spy hearing since the European war began. Counter-espionage agents believed that Signorina Rota, an Italian by birth, began dabbling in the perilous game of spying merely because of the storied adventure connected with it. But as she grew more and more deeply involved, it was asserted, she became the "master mind" of a group which supplied information to several foreign countries.

Was Well Known

"Nina" was well known to night club patrons in Paris, Rome and Madrid before she took up spying. She became a Swiss citizen when she married a Swiss, whom she later divorced.

During her three days' trial the dark-eyed beauty maintained strict silence, but authorities linked her to a co-defendant, Roger Joel, former employee in a Swiss arms factory.

AROUND CITY HALL

Some years ago police of the city department practiced revolver shooting at regular periods. Many of them showed a big improvement after several practices. Later practice was discontinued. About the only practice they now get is during small and big game shooting.

Council, which has convened several times as a board of appeals and tax revision to hear appeals from residents of various wards, has not yet rendered decisions on any of the appeals. It is likely action will be delayed until all appeals have been made.

Within the next few weeks, members of council will be required to sharpen pencils and convene in budget-making meetings. The budgets now must be compiled then placed on display for the consideration of the public. It is likely men elected this month will be invited to the sessions.

The days when detectives distinguished their features with false whiskers may be over but to several men, two of whom are yet in police service and a third who is not, their duties carried them into the path where their lives weren't worth a nickel. We're referring to Mariou (Brig) Young, John (Dude) Moore and Howard Phillips.

Years ago when Phillips drove the patrol, which then was drawn by horses, police were told by a citizen he had received Black Hand letters. It so happened that Young was given the assignment. Noting Phillips was the same size as the man threatened he ordered him to secure garb, identical to that worn by the man threatened.

Flanked by Young and several other police, who hid themselves, Phillips, at midnight agreed to deposit the money at the spot demanded. As he strolled through the lonely outskirts of the city he was a target for a bullet. He knew his fellow officers were somewhere around but he also knew he was a "target" if anything went wrong.

Something did go wrong. Shortly after he started his midnight trek, as the supposedly Black Hand demanded, the stillness was broke by a report and the inky blackness of the sky suddenly burst into fire. The extortionists had discovered the ruse and signalled with a rocket.

The extortionists never made another attempt upon the life of the citizen, it was reported.

Upon another occasion Young informed Moore that a man had been molesting women in the Croton avenue section. He instructed Moore to attire in woman's clothing and capture the man.

Moore did as directed and while strolling late at night was suddenly molested. Had Moore been less capable, pugilistically, the man would have escaped. As it was, Moore was fairly well battered before he subdued his prisoner.

Motor Policemen Prove 'Samaritans'

Put Out Fires, Give First Aid, Help Stranded Motorists

ALWAYS READY TO GIVE ASSISTANCE

Pennsylvania motor police fulfill the role of Samaritans not seldom, but often, according to reports, and each auto vehicle operated by motor policeman is equipped with fire extinguishers, first aid kits and flares. More than once they have transported stranded people from lonely points along the highway to the nearest city.

According to Corporal G. F. Keck, in charge of the enforcement of motor laws in this section, motor police always stop when they see a motorist in serious trouble. Not only do they place flares, if the car is broken down on the highway, but help to shove it to a point of safety. If the motorist has a flat tire and needs help, assistance is given.

Although it has been seldom in this county, the fact remains that fire extinguishers have proved useful in putting out automobile fires.

Gives First Aid
When a motor policeman arrives quickly at the scene of an accident and first aid is required, the motor policeman, being qualified by training, gives it quickly.

Two months ago a motor policeman was a real Samaritan to some small children and an adult in charge, who were apparently stranded on a side-row on Route 422 near Dixie Inn.

The children had been taken there for an outing. Some of the children were transported home by another adult. Obviously something went wrong with the auto.

When it did not return the adult and children began to worry, but not for long. Soon a motor policeman in an auto arrived at the scene and sensing something wrong, asked if he could be of aid. The motorman was told he could. He brought them all to New Castle. While it may be true that motor policemen are firm in the enforcement of law, yet they do it courteously and in time of trouble can always be depended upon to give assistance.

They have been trained for months in school, then sent to sub-stations. They patrol roads day and night. Motorists may feel assured that motor policemen are at their service day or night, anywhere.

In connection with the Musical Holiday, which occurred at Ben Franklin Field, Tuesday, a First Aid Station was established at the stadium by the Lawrence County Chapter, American Red Cross. Fortunately there were no calls for their service, but the First Aiders were prepared for any emergency which might have arisen.

Those composing the unit at the stadium were: Elmer Tinsman, Harry Bolinger, Mrs. Emily Robertson, Mrs. Bernice Crowl, Mrs. Robert Peterson, Mrs. Zeida Vanditto and Mrs. Catherine Frazier.

Get Ready To Answer Flock Of Questions; Census Taking Nears

Are you married? Do you live with your wife? How many children have you? Do you own an automobile, a radio, a twelve gauge shot gun or a hunting case watch? An answer yes or no.

Just a sample of something that is just around the corner good friends. The decennial census of the United States and sometime inside of the next few months you will be called upon by a census enumerator.

Uncle Sam wants to know how many there are in his family and every ten years he starts asking questions through the medium of thousands of census takers.

The census will be divided into congressional districts with a director and an assistant handling each district. Every county will have a supervisory head and under him will be the census takers.

Who will be the district census supervisor for Lawrence, Mercer and Beaver counties? That answer isn't out yet but the gentleman has been appointed and is now in Washington, taking instructions according to our Secret Service and Bloodhound department. The gentleman is from Beaver county, but the assistant will be from Lawrence county and the headquarters will be here, it is said.

Get set to answer a flock of questions. And remember they are not the work of a keyhole snapper but of men and women appointed by Uncle Sam to get the lowdown on his family and their belongings.

A lot of Democratic congressmen are using the appointments as boards for political fences, which isn't surprising. In this district the congressman is a Republican and you can bet your last year's straw hat that he will not be considered in the allocation of the jobs.

Mother, Mix Your Own Cough Remedy. It's Fine.

Quick, Comforting Relief. Saves Money. Easily Mixed.

This well-known home-mixed medicine costs very little, but it gives delightful, swift-acting relief from coughs due to colds. It takes but a moment to prepare—it's so easy a child could do it. And it saves real money.

Make a syrup by stirring 2 cups granulated sugar and one cup of water a few moments until dissolved. No cooking is needed.

Then get 2½ ounces of Pinex from any druggist. Pour this into a pint bottle, and add your syrup. Thus you make a full pint of really splendid cough remedy and you get about four times as much for your money. It never spoils, lasts a family a long time and children love its taste.

And for quick, blessed relief, you'll say it is truly wonderful. It has a remarkable action. It loosens the phlegm, soothes the irritated membranes, and helps clear the air passages.

Pinex is a compound containing Norway Pine and palatable guarana, in concentrated form, well-known for its prompt action in coughs and bronchial irritations. Money refunded if it doesn't please you in every way.

BUDDY BAER MAY BATTLE COMISKEY

By LAWTON CARVER
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—Along the sports front:

For longevity of ring service and number of comebacks the California Baers (Max and Buddy) threaten to break records. The assumption was that we had seen the last of them around here after their respective performances against Lou Nova and Gunnar Barlund the Baers losing by technical knockouts—but Buddy probably will be with us again soon lending his visage as a target for the pot shots of Pat Comiskey, young Jersey heavyweight.

RUCKER GOING TO DETROIT
Jim Rucker, varsity quarterback for the Shady Side football team at Pittsburgh, will travel with the team to Detroit Saturday to meet Cranbrook Academy of that city. Rucker, whose home is at 501 Laurel boulevard, suffered a broken thumb in practice early this week. He has been a star for Shady Side so far this season.

Tony has been a great fighter but he went into the ring with the decision to quit the ring if he lost. Billy Marquart, Winnipeg, won by a technical knockout over Billy Beaudou of Jersey City in the fifth round.

Challendon won the Pimlico Special by half a length from Kayak II yesterday. Cravat was a distanced third. It was for a purse of $10,000, at 1-2-16 mile. Twenty-two thousand watched the race Eddie Arcaro rode the winner.

Once upon a time Emmett Rocco pounded a punching bag and pugilistic opponents but nowadays he is hammering a typewriter and directing police. He was named desk sergeant at Ellwood City police headquarters recently, we've been informed. Rocco, in his day, was Ellwood City's foremost fistic banner carrier. He met some of the most rugged heavyweights in the country. He was popular here and his appearance against a worthy opponent always attracted good gates. He fought Battling Levinsky, Al Friedman, Joe Sekyra and others here when the Jolly bowl was operating. News of his appointment to the desk sergeantcy will be welcomed here.

According to an old friend, Jiggers Foster, another once prominent of fistania, is visiting Pete Boy, former boxer, of Ellwood City. He is Jimmy Belmont of Braddock. Belmont was a good puncher. Local fans witnessed him in action here against Young De Vivio.

A question came to the writer recently relative to Mickie Solomon. In effect it was: "Who started Mickie Solomon? If we recollect accurately it was hard-cooking Eddie Weigant. After Eddie left the city, Joe Alexander handled Mickie's destinies. Solomon battled Buck McTiernan and some other well known middleweights. Solomon was a sweet boxer and stepped around nicely. Although out of the game, he is yet able to step around and we believe would make a good tutor.

George Chip, former middleweight champion, paid a neat compliment to Battling Terry a few days ago. George was discussing the Hit and Miss game. "Do you know," he asked, "that Terry hit me the hardest punch I ever took? We were boxing in the gymnasium. He hooked a left to the wind. It took all the wind out of me. I 'buled' after him to cover up my condition," said Chip. Inasmuch as Chip fought everybody who would meet him his statement is important concerning Terry's hitting ability.

Challendon May Surpass Sun Beau In Cash Earnings

(International News Service)
BALTIMORE, Md., Nov. 2.—W. L. Brann's Pimlico special winner, Challendon, may be the one to surpass the earnings of Sun Beau, the world's largest money-winning thoroughbred.

So the turf gossip ran today following his notable triumph in a thrilling duel with Charles S. Howard's game Kayak II by half a length before 20,000.

Challendon has earned this year $184,535, giving him a big margin over Kayak II, winner of the $100,000 Santa Anita handicap. Challendon's total earnings amount to $252,235, above even the amount won by the great Man O'War.

Sunbeau won $376,744. Challendon, in winning the special, took down the entire purse of $10,000.

Moran-Murray In Final Battle

La Volpe And Bartle, Both Winners Over Rubin, To Fight

RUBIN BANNED FROM AMATEURS

Frankie Moran, southpaw, and regarded as the best featherweight in amateur ranks hereabouts, and Billy Murray, the Cecil flash, will appear in the grand finale of the Beauhault of Jersey City in the fifth round.

Mickie Rubin, who disqualified himself for amateur competition when he fought professionally Tuesday in Youngstown, will be replaced by Nick La Volpe, of Youngstown, who not once, but twice defeated Mickie in fights at Farrell, La Volpe will battle Benny Bartle, of Ellwood City, the new 175-pound amateur champion of Lawrence county. La Volpe won his only fight here. He is regarded as the best light heavyweight in the Youngstown district.

The only regrettable thing about the Rubin affair is that Rubin did not fulfill his engagement to fight Bartle. He asked for a return bout and it was granted. However, he automatically forced himself out of the amateurs by appearing in a professional ring.

Taylor Vs. Turner
According to Tommy Leach, matchmaker of the Jefferson A. C., Rubin had promised he would not appear professionally until he fulfilled his engagement with Bartle. However he did, and as a result, the La Volpe-Bartle fight will occur instead and it ought to be worth seeing.

Mill Taylor, of Cecil, who beat Bartle here and also at Farrell, will be sent into the ring against Al Turner, the Pittsburgh 175-pound champion. With these three bouts scheduled for the last trio on the card it isn't likely attendance will falter in the west.

All the boxers are in training and with champions of various classes and from different sections in the Parade of Fistic Kings, The Arena in all probability will be jammed to the rafters.

Battered Temple Team May Rise To Heights In Game This Coming Saturday

PANTHERS WON BY BIG SCORE IN 1938

(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 2.—With his team definitely the underdog, Head Coach Fred Swan today refused to concede defeat at the hands of Pittsburgh when Temple tackles the Panthers in Philadelphia Saturday.

Possibility of an upset victory for his battered eleven, victors over Texas Christian and Bucknell in five starts this season, was predicted by Swan. Temple absorbed a 28-6 lacing at the hands of Pitt last year. "Our attack is functioning more smoothly at present and I believe we'll score a touchdown or two, but that may not be enough to halt the Pitt team," Swan said. ## May Have To Amputate Leg Of Don Herring

Doctors Working Feverishly To Save Leg Of Princeton's Giant Tackle

GRID FATALITIES ARE GETTING FEWER

By LESTER RICE
International News Service Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—While Don Herring lay upon a hospital cot making a fight against the slowly moving amputation knife, football fans were recalling how free of tragic injury have grid-irons been in recent years.

The sad plight of Princeton's giant of a tackle, whose six-foot, five-inch frame revealed only muscle and sinew in the 235 pounds which covered it, brought into bold relief the almost total absence of fatal accidents in the modernized, open game.

Herring's is the most conspicuous injury case of a current season which has been inordinately without serious mishaps.

1938 Record Near
An all-time safety record was established in 1938 and it had been believed that 1939 would be even safer and saner because of the several precautions adopted by the rules committee of the National Collegiate Athletic association at its January meeting.

Headguards and soft knee pads were made mandatory. A thicker protective padding on thigh guards was ordered and snub-nosed cleats substituted for those which had produced so many injuries.

Because of these and other safeguards there has been in recent years no anti-football hysteria which inevitably followed in the wake of every tragic accident of the past.

The latest of these public demands followed the death of Richard B. Sheridan, Jr., eight years ago in a New Haven hospital.

Had Broken Neck
A West Point Cadet from Augusta, Ga., Sheridan had played right end for the Army against Yale. When Army kicked off in the fourth period Sheridan dashed down the field and tackled Robert Lassiter, Jr., on the 22-yard line. Several others piled upon the fallen two, and when all but Sheridan had risen, he laid inert, his neck broken. He was carried from the field on a stretcher. The game went on. Two days later he died.

Another tragic case was that of Al Lassman, N. Y. U.'s massive tackle who had dreamed of becoming the world's professional boxing champion after his college days were over.

Injured in a game against Carnegie Tech 11 years ago, he subsequently underwent an operation for blood clot and a fractured skull from which he never quite fully recovered. He later died of a hero's death trying to save three boys from drowning.

TEMPLE TO TRY TO TRIP PITT

It was last year. Then we battled the Panthers in the second game of the year, playing a team that was seasoned, used to powerful teams. This time, however, Temple has been through the mill just as often as Pitt, and I believe our schedule has been every bit as tough.

"We're going to be ready for the game and we'll have to be. For Charley Bowser's squad no doubt will be rebounding after the lull of the last two games of the season and Fordham in its last two starts."

Monessen May Prove Tough

"Red Hurricane" May Find Stiff Opposition At Monessen Field Friday Night

MONESSEN WANTS TO UPSET LOCALS

The New Castle "Red Hurricane" may run into stiff opposition at Monessen on Friday night. It is reported by those who have seen the Greyhounds play. The game will start at 8 o'clock. It was announced today.

The local team will go by bus to Monessen leaving early in the afternoon. All week long the coaches have been stressing pass defense this year and the Monessen team has been throwing a lot of passes.

No Serious Injuries
None of the New Castle boys suffered any serious injuries in the Massillon game last Friday night. The locals can be at full strength for the Monessen fray.

Last Monday night the Greyhounds tied the Donora team 6-0 at Monessen and should have won easily, but for bad breaks. Monessen will be out to beat New Castle and avenge that 12 to 9 setback given them last year at Taggart Stadium. Then too, it is a task for any team to beat a New Castle team and they will fight hard to be able to dump the "Red Hurricanes" a feat that is seldom performed.

Compare Harmon With Grange In Big Ten Today

Michigan Flash Rated As "Second Red Grange" By Scribes, Leads Scorers

FORTY-FIVE POINTS IN TWO BIG GAMES

By CHESTER YOULL
International News Service Staff Writer

CHICAGO, Nov. 2.—From one end of the Big Ten to the other today, they were calling Tommy Harmon, Michigan's explosive back, a "second Red Grange," and the records to a great extent uphold this claim.

Scoring figures released by the Western Conference Service Bureau show that in two conference games Harmon has scored six touchdowns, six points after touchdowns and a field goal for a total of 45 makers. To show how completely the Wolverine dominates the field, you have to realize that the second place Big Ten scorer, Don Glawson of Northwestern, has made only 19 points, less than half of the number piled up by the leader.

Harmon Real Threat
Harmon's 45 points do not include his touchdown dashes against either Michigan State or Yale, Michigan's non-conference opponents to date. Against Yale, he scored 21 of his team's 27 points as an example of his non-conference efficiency, and for this reason he also is the nation's leading scorer. A lot of Big Ten followers, especially those from Illinois, are not yet ready to admit that the Michigan junior is in the Grange class. Only too well they remember that crisp fall afternoon in 1924 when the red head took a Michigan kickoff, ran it 95 yards for a touchdown and followed with three more touchdowns on runs of 70, 87 and 43 yards, all this action occurring in the space of 10 minutes.

After all, Harmon may not be that good, but there hasn't been a back in the conference in many years, even when you think of such men as Harry Newman of Michigan, Duane Purvis of Purdue and Gus Lund of Minnesota, to rank with the current Wolverine threat.

Ellwood High Plays New Brighton Tonight At Reeves Stadium

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 2.—When the Ellwood High Wolverines line-up under the lights at Reeves stadium, College Hill, tonight at 8 o'clock it will be the first and only appearance of the title bent Croft crew in the upper Beaver valley.

Facing the Blue and White will be a New Brighton eleven that would like nothing better than to topple the local team, undefeated in county ranks, and in no small way the Oak Hillers are anxious to avenge a 26-0 drubbing handed them last year by the Ellwoodians.

Since the New Brighton lads have blown hot and cold all season—mostly cold—the Tubers are favorites in tonight's battle. Head Coach Croft thinks it is bad for the team's mental frame to be conceded favorites and he has tried all week to impress upon the Wolverines that they can win only as long as they display the fight that has won their major victories over Midland and Aliquippa.

The mentor highly praises this squad as the best he has ever worked in Ellwood because they are willing to listen and learn. Sparked by little Vito Fera, outstanding line-man who is as full of fire and enthusiasm as a bomb is of explosives, there is little need to worry about the kind of fight the local eleven will display against the valley crew.

STOCKS

Small Changes In Stock Prices

Trading Is Orderly And Changes Generally Of Little Significance

By LESLIE GOULD
International News Service
Financial Writer

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—The stock market drifted irregularly lower today as trading continued sluggish. Most price changes were fractional. Outstanding was a break in Western Union, reflecting the N. L. R. B. order to disband the Association of Western Union employees and refund all dues collected under the check-off system since July 5, 1935. The stock tumbled more than three points in heavy selling to around 28 before meeting support.

Elsewhere trading was orderly and stock movements generally were of little significance. Stocks were mixed and quiet at the opening but began a gradual retreat soon after.

A few leaders slipped a point or more at their own. These included American Smelting, General Electric, United Aircraft, Allied Chemical and Union Carbide.

Chrysler, U. S. Steel, Johns-Manville and Boeing each lost almost a point, while Texas Corp., Pennsylvania, General Motors, Youngstown Sheet & Tube, Phelps-Dodge, Goodyear, Montgomery Ward and Westinghouse Electric gave up fractions.

Bethlehem was among the few to buck downward trend, holding around last night's close after advancing a fraction in early dealings. Most utilities, Standard Oil of N. J., American Telephone and DuPont also maintained a comparatively firm tone.

CHINESE JUNK TO SEEK AMAZON

The Hummel-Hummel

The tiny Chinese junk, the Hummel-Hummel, which made a 188-day trip from China to California recently, will soon be sailing for the Amazon river, South America. Dr. E. A. Petersen, the skipper; his Japanese wife, Tane Petersen, and Wendell K. Parks, a friend, will make the trip.

Deputy Sheriff Is Clever Detective

Picks Up Automobile Tire Clue And Rounds Up Corn Field Suspects

Deputy Sheriff Paul F. Stark did a clever piece of detective work this week in tracking down a couple of men who had stolen corn from Joe Oloyer and Joe Oloyer, Jr., of near Wampum. The Oloyers had husked the corn and left it in the field overnight. When they went after it, the corn was gone. Automobile tracks showed how it had been taken.

A call was sent to the sheriff's office and Deputy Stark was dispatched on the job. He first made a study of the automobile tracks, and then began scouting around. In a lane on an Ellwood R. D. route, he discovered auto tracks corresponding to the ones in the cornfield. Following them up he found an auto in a garage, the tires of which corresponded to the tracks, and in the car were some grains of corn.

He accused John Imuzela and Edward Lawrence and took them before Judge Squire S. Y. Douds of Ellwood City, where they pleaded guilty to the theft, and paid for the corn and the cost of the car.

As the amount was small the Oloyers withdrew the information and the men were discharged.

Red Cross Has Rally Wednesday

SPEAKERS TELL OF COMING DRIVE

Gathering in the Penn Theatre Wednesday morning workers who will take part in the coming Roll Call of the Lawrence County Chapter, American Red Cross, heard plans for the Roll Call discussed and saw moving pictures of the Red Cross in action.

Rev. Father Joseph A. Doerr, pastor of St. Joseph's church, one of the chapter's most enthusiastic backers and chairman of the speakers committee during the coming campaign, presided, and introduced Norman E. Clark, Roll Call chairman, who spoke of the plans for the Roll Call.

William A. Francis gave a short but impressive talk on the business man's viewpoint as to the worth of the American Red Cross.

Mrs. Harry L. Gormley, chairman of the home canvass, spoke on her plans for the campaign in the homes of the city, while Alex McCready, chairman for the county district, outlined the work his organization has mapped out for conducting the campaign in the suburban area of the county.

Short talks were also made by M. D. Cohn, chairman of publicity, and George D. Reid, chairman of the business men's teams.

Through the courtesy of Mr. Cohn, two splendid films "Headlines Behind the Flood" and "Why Not Live," were shown which gave the workers a more accurate picture of some of the things the Red Cross is most vitally interested in.

International Amity Is Aim Of Red Cross Juniors

In the American Junior Red Cross the youth of this county have an organization of their own, through which they can effectively participate in the life and needs of their time. That is the verdict of authorities on education who have witnessed the remarkable growth of this movement from the days of the World War. It is now the largest youth organization in the United States, with a membership of 8,956,000.

Lawrence County Red Cross has a splendid junior group. Dr. John A. Meehan is the chairman and has made a record of enrolling close to 100 per cent of all juniors. This year the junior program was given to the parochial schools, all of them enrolling 100 per cent.

The motto "I SERVE" is being worked out by the councils and sponsors. The juniors build their service fund and have an active program when it comes to using it. World friendliness is emphasized. Correspondence with school children of other lands bring to our juniors the realization that all children are doing similar things and thinking along the same lines.

The local juniors have taken an interest in civic affairs. They participate in civic programs. They also have availed themselves of first aid instruction.

It is the Red Cross in the schools, training the citizens of tomorrow for the part they will be called upon to play in local, national and international affairs.

One feature which has been planned to keep the juniors interested, is a Junior Red Cross spelling bee every Saturday morning during November at 9:30 o'clock over WKST from the Senior high school. This will be conducted by Dr. Meehan.
